THE CENTURY AND ITS FRUIT.

In alluding to the preparations for the centennial celebration, the New York Tribune says it is timely to ask what the century has done for the nation as a political organism. In material aspects the progress of the nation has been without parallel. Its farms and its factories, its mines and its mills, its inventions, its accumulations of wealth, and improvement in the condition of the inhabitants are not in danger of being overlooked. But there is a general impression that in its political life the nation has deteriorated, that its methods are not as pure or its aims as elevated as in the golden age of revolutionary heroism.

When Washington's farewell address warned his countrymen against party spirit he was not speaking of an evil then unknown. Little study of the nation's early history is needed to show that in violation and malignity of personal attacks, in bitterness of personal rivalries and animosities, the early days were not as stainless and beautiful as many imagine. Not many Americans have ever been reviled as Washington or Jefferson was, and the latest days so often called degenerate have not seen a flame-thrower in a duel by a Burr. The narrowness of spirit, the petty selfishness and jealousy which mark much of the discussion in some of the states over the constitution are not surprising to-day, but instead there is a pride in the national unity, power and progress, and a measure of subordination of local to national interest, which nowhere appear in the years immediately succeeding the revolution. Nothing but stern necessity brought the colonies together into political union, but the national spirit, then so weak, has grown to be powerful enough to suppress the great civil war of human history.

In a higher sense the nation has grown because it has cleared away the weak dishonoring compromises of its origin. Slavery has gone, and with it the pernicious doctrine of state supremacy. The right and duty of the nation to protect and promote the welfare of its citizens, regardless of local divisions, have been recognized in school laws, in laws for prevention of diseases, in regulation of interstate commerce in restriction of immigration and in other forms almost innumerable. Becoming conspicuously one in interest, the nation has become one in conscience, so that agitation for decent and honest marriage laws, bankrupt laws, and election laws, springs up in almost every state at once. Through concurrent action of state legislatures, enormous progress has already been made, and yet it is everywhere felt that the failure to secure for all citizens the benefits of that legislation which has been found the wisest and best is a discredit, which patriotic feeling strives earnestly to remove.

The habit of the time is to speak of our elections, lawmaking bodies and public men as exceedingly corrupt. Yet it may fairly be doubted whether there was not as much evil in early times, when there was no Argus-eyed scrutiny or censorious criticism as there is now. The very frequency of electioneering and the watchfulness and a popular demand for purity of conduct which certainly did not exist in the days of Jackson or Van Buren, or in those of Pierce or Buchanan. Great combinations of capitalists have not more, but less, power than relatively similar combinations had in the times which are now called pure, and it may be doubted whether the rights of the poorest citizen were ever more jealously watched or impartially defended than they are now. The progress of the nation in moral life may be traced in the very topics of discussion which have engrossed attention. In early days the rights of states, the creation of banks, the acquisition of territory divided men into hostile camps. Now temperance, purification of elections and of the public service engross attention. The nation is not only older, more manly, less aggressive, but it is more anxious to defend and uplift its citizens, more zealous to protect its homes and purify its public life, than at any previous period in the century.

Every week brings fresh tidings of industrial development in the southern states, with a persistent regularity that would be monotonous were it not so highly gratifying. It is evident that those states are swiftly growing into a new era, far more prosperous than any former time; and it is also evident that the election of a republican president and congress has materially aided and encouraged this growth, instead of checking it and bringing down the "roaring flood of sorrow" which bourbon politicians before election so pathetically predicted. The capital needed for development of southern resources, which southerners themselves do not sufficiently possess, is now pouring in freely, chiefly from the eastern and middle states. During the past month New England capitalists have founded an industrial town at Port Payne, Alabama, with already 1,000 stockholders; and have purchased 30,000 acres of coal land in the same state. Seven months ago, Florence, Ala. had 2,500 inhabitants. Now it is finishing twenty new factories, which will employ 5,000 hands, and 1,000 new dwelling and business houses have been begun this year. From many other localities similar reports come. There is a state of things down there mention of which would have seemed chimerical in old plantation days, but at which every American patriot should earnestly rejoice.

The efficiency of prohibition is thus illustrated by the Omaha Bee: "There being nothing to drink in high-lime Omaha yesterday, 2,000 sturdy citizens of high-lime Nebraska went over to prohibition Iowa and got all they wanted."

NO NEWS OF THE ABSENT.

INCOMING VESSELS HAVE NO WORD OF THE DANMARK.

Terrible Havoc by Lightning—Not Death in the Flames—The Wisconsin Heard From.

New York, April 16.—No news has been received from any quarter concerning the fate of the steamer Denmark and her passengers. The Servia and Arizona from Liverpool, the Olympia from Gibraltar, and the Verra from Bremen are expected to-day, and hope still clings to their bringing some news.

The Hamburg-American line steamship Hammonia and the Mediterranean line steamship Chemlon have arrived, but brought no news of the Denmark.

Sailed on the 11th-Fated Ship. Hudson, Wis., April 16.—Mrs. Ingelborg Logren, of this city, and Miss Bertha Elstrom, sister of Mrs. Emil Olund, also of this city, were among the passengers on the ill-fated Denmark. Mrs. Logren and Mrs. Olund were members of the Swedish Ladies' Quartet during its tour in this country. Both ladies had made engagements to sing in a church choir in Minneapolis.

No News in London. London, April 16.—No tidings have been received of the fate of the people who abandoned the steamer Denmark. A revised list of her crew and passengers shows that when the steamer sailed from her last port she had on board in all 731 souls. Of these the officers and crew numbered fifty-four.

HAVOC BY LIGHTNING.

A Farmer's House Near Findlay, Ohio, Struck and Several Persons Injured.

FINDLAY, Ohio, April 16.—The family of C. H. Perkins, living in Jackson township, this county, had a most remarkable experience during a thunderstorm which passed over that section yesterday. The storm, which was accompanied by terrific lightning, came up almost without a moment's notice, and struck the Perkins residence, tearing away the tin roof, and with the corner and a part of the weather boarding, and then striking a pipe in the basement, which is used as a kitchen. Here it knocked down the furniture, such as washstands, tables, etc., into a heap, and threw a dog, which was asleep by the stove, so violently against the stone wall of the apartment, that it was instantly killed. The servant girl, who was standing by the stove, was shocked so severely that she will hardly recover, although still alive. Mrs. Perkins and a babe, who were also in the room, escaped without injury. In front of the house the hired man was standing with a team of horses, and they ran away, throwing the man from the wagon and severely injuring him. The frightened animals in their mad flight demolished the vehicle and seriously injured themselves. Mr. Perkins was out in the garden when the bolt struck the house. The spade which he held in his hand was thrown so violently against the wall as to severely stun him, so that he did not recover consciousness for an hour. The house caught fire from the overturned stove, but the flames before much damage had been done. The escape of the family from instant death, considering all the circumstances, was most remarkable.

TWO LOST IN THE FLAMES.

A Colored Hackman and His Driver Met Death at Louisville, Ky.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 16.—A frame stable occupied by James Miller, a colored hackman, was destroyed by fire this morning. Miller and his colored driver, Felix Williams, perished in the flames. The fire had gained great headway before Miller arrived on the spot. In the midst of the remonstrances of his friends he rushed into the burning building to rescue his horses. The stable fell in immediately, and was crushed to death. Williams slept in the stable loft, and is supposed to have been cut off from escape before he awoke. Four horses also perished. The bodies of the men were recovered.

AT THE WISCONSIN ALL RIGHT.

She Left Queensstown This Morning After Putting Back for Repairs.

New York, April 16.—The anxiety caused by the dispatch said to have been received from Queensstown to the effect that the Cunard steamer Etruria had sighted the Guion steamer Wisconsin putting back to Queensstown, and that the latter had not arrived either at Queensstown or Liverpool, was dispelled to-day by a cablegram received by her agents here that the Wisconsin sailed from Queensstown at 9 o'clock this morning for New York. It is supposed she met with some slight accident to her machinery, and put back to Queensstown for repairs.

Drowning Accident at La Porte.

LA PORTE, Ind., April 16.—While securing maple trees from the bank of the Kankakee river Sunday afternoon, Herman Gallert, aged 21, fell out of a boat and was drowned.

WON A BRIDE AND A FORTUNE.

A Student of Brown University Elopes With a Heiress Having $250,000.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 16.—The elopement and secret marriage of Miss Fedora King, one of the belles of the East Side, and George McLeod, a student in Brown university, is the sensation of the day here. He is the son of a machinist in the city, a bright young fellow just out of the verge of 21. The courtship is understood to have been not over twenty days' duration. The young couple went away in a carriage on Friday evening and drove through the town to East Providence, where a license was procured. They went to the pastor of the Congregational church there and the ceremony was quickly performed. Since that time the whereabouts of the young couple has been a mystery. It is thought by friends they have gone on an extended tour. The bride is beautiful and accomplished and just past the age of majority. She is now in possession of more than $250,000. The fortune was by will from her grandfather, the late Deacon King.

Sullivan's Money Up.

New York, April 16.—The representative of John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain met to-day at the Clipper office and made the rest of the deposit for the great fight, selecting, after considerable wrangling, Allen H. Crigge as final stakeholder.

Wedded to a Chinaman.

LINCOLN, Neb., April 16.—Miss Minnie Andrews, a white girl of eighteen years, was married in this city to-day to a Chinaman named John Tong. Both of the contracting parties are from Omaha.

MEXICO'S GROWTH.

President Diaz Sends a Glowing Message to Congress.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 16.—President Diaz, in his message to Congress, gives information regarding various enterprises and public improvement as follows: "The mining industry continues in full development, and the good effects of the law of June 6, 1887, are visible in the number of contracts that have been made in accordance with its conditions. Their number is 155, of which nine have been declared forfeited. The contracts now in force promise an investment in mining enterprises of more than $40,000,000. It has been the constant aim of the Government to develop the productive power of the nation. To attain this important end, it has directed its efforts to the maintenance of peace, the increase of public security, and the acquisition of information in regard to the country. It has given to capital invested in national enterprises all the guarantees and inducements in its power. It hopes that the participation of Mexico in the coming Paris exposition will contribute to the attainment of the end in view, and it has, therefore, taken pains to send thither a complete collection of such objects and products as will give an adequate idea of the country.

"The cultivation of the vine and the breeding of the silk worm continue to occupy the attention of the industrial classes. Nor is the day far off when our national industry of pisciculture, with the object of peopling our waters with new kinds of fish, will begin to show useful results. From September up to the present time more than 5,000,000 hectares of public land have been surveyed by companies duly authorized. Of these lands one-third has fallen to the share of the surveying companies as a recompense for their work and the remainder has been divided into the area available for colonization or sale, according to the laws ruling these matters.

"The Vera Cruz harbor improvement works have continued without interruption. 1,170 blocks having been submerged. These blocks will, in process of time, form the foundation for the breakwater which will protect the port on the northwest. The hydraulic works undertaken to protect the bank of the Rio Bravo at Ciudad Juarez are on the eve of completion, seven jetties, which protect an extent of more than five kilometers, having already been constructed. Remarkable improvements are to be recorded in the federal telegraph system. The section connecting Sinaloa with Chihuahua, via Culiacan and Parral, has been completed. The section from Vera Cruz to Tlaxiotalpan is in operation, that from Minatitlan to San Nicholas is now finished, and only sixty-seven kilometers are lacking to complete the line from Vera Cruz to Minatitlan.

"The total strength of the federal telegraph system, excluding double and triple circuits, has been increased to 21,300 kilometers. In his general resume of the finances the President says that the revenues are increasing, the collections of the first half of the current fiscal year being somewhat greater than in the corresponding period of the previous year. The importance of giving free scope to the operations of banking institutions is dwelt upon, and a project is made of a project for the establishment of an agricultural and industrial bank in the State of Puebla. The operations of liquidations and the conversion of the interior debt are going on without interruption. The expenses authorized by the budget have been met regularly and without recourse to extraordinary means.

"To sum up," says the President in concluding this division of his message, "the gradual increase of the revenue, the regularity in payments, and the confidence felt abroad in respect to the solvency of the republic constitute a financial situation which, if it cannot be termed prosperous, differs very favorably from that which, during long years, distressed and paralyzed the well-being of the nation."

Adjusting Southern Freight Rates.

New York, April 16.—The rate committee of the Southern Railway and Steamship Association have been in session several days at 46 Bond street, revising and adjusting freight rates to Southern points from both Eastern and Western States, in conformity with the decision of the Inter-State Commerce Commission March 30, which was based upon the investigation made by them on December 18. The committee reached a conclusion as to the basis for each section. The details will be worked up by each line as quickly as possible.

Death of "Big Hannah."

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 16.—Mrs. Hannah Battersby, said to be the largest woman in the world, died last night at her home in Frankford, a suburb of this city. She was 47 years old. At 17 years of age she weighed 600 pounds. She married John Battersby, a "living skeleton." Mrs. Battersby when married weighed 688 pounds and of late years her manager has claimed that she weighed 800 pounds.

Edwin Booth Fully Recovered.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, April 16.—Edwin Booth arrived here Sunday the picture of health and opened Monday night at Lago to Barrett's Othello before the largest and most enthusiastic audience ever assembled at the opera house, his reception amounting to perfect ovation. The remainder of the Booth-Barrett engagement is sold. Mr. Booth will fill all his engagements this season.

The Petrel's Trial Postponed.

BALTIMORE, April 16.—The steam trial trip of the new gunboat Petrel, which was recently announced to take place to-day, has again been postponed. At the Corps of Engineers' works, where the vessel is being built, it was stated that necessary work on the gunboat had not yet been completed, making it impossible for a trial to take place.

The Visible Supply of Grain.

New York, April 16.—The visible supply of grain, as compiled by the New York Produce Exchange, is as follows: Wheat 27,778,732 bushels, decrease 1,000,632 bushels; corn 13,250,187 bushels, decrease 250,576 bushels; oats 6,558,290 bushels, decrease 150,354 bushels; rye 1,844,933 bushels, increase 2,964 bushels; barley 1,052,713 bushels, decrease 13,664 bushels.

In Love's Labyrinth.

Not too many naturally look forward to matrimony as their popular sphere of activity, but they should constantly bear in mind that a fair, rosy face, bright eyes, and a healthy, well-developed form, are the best passports to a healthy marriage. It is the only medicine for women, sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee from the manufacturers, that it will give satisfaction in every case, or money will be refunded. This guarantee has been printed on the bottle-wrapper, and faithfully carried out for many years.

MA QUEEN'S ANNUAL BATH.

The Great Rejoicing When Her Majesty of Madagascar is Washed.

The French papers report that the Queen of Madagascar is just about to bathe. Perhaps Americans will not at first realize the solemnity and importance of this statement concerning the annual ablutions of the Queen, which are the sensation of the year in that distant island. They celebrate the occasion of the "Festival of the Bath" with the greatest pomp and seriousness, and it is only at Madagascar 400 which are permitted to assist in this great festival of cleanliness. Besides these, the privileged spectators consist of the foreign ministers, her own high officials only, and the princes of the blood. The Prime Minister and the French Resident alone are allowed to be seated during this august ceremony.

The Queen is clothed all in scarlet and seated upon a red velvet throne; a corner of the room is rolled off with red curtains and behind this is rolled a great bath-tub of wood. A solemn procession files along bearing the water for the bath. The material for the fire to heat it, made directly under the bath-tub itself, the towels, soap, perfume, and various appurtenances. As soon as the water is sufficiently heated the fire is put out, prayers are said and a hymn sung. Implying that the Queen suffer no harm from her daring act, and then as she disappears behind the curtain a salvo of artillery is first and drums beat to announce to the excited multitudes outside that the important part of the ceremony is taking place. At the end of a brief fifteen minutes the Queen reappears, somewhat paler in hue, but gorgeously arrayed and wearing all the crown jewels. In her hand she carries an ox-crown, topped and bound with silver, and she dips a branch into the water and sprinkles the spectators as they pass along, which gives them the satisfaction of feeling that they have in a measure shared in the dangers which the Queen, as the head of the nation, has boldly confronted.

Cannons are fired at intervals of every five minutes until she is safely back on her throne again, and the princes of the royal family, the representatives of the nobility, and the foreign ministers come and tender their congratulations and present gifts. The ceremony is concluded with the declaration of the ordeal. It is a time of general feasting about the island; oxen are roasted whole, and the people send gifts to one another in testimony of the universal joy.

THE BRITISH BUDGET.

FINANCIAL AFFAIRS OF THE

UNITED KINGDOM.

Removal of the Serious Illness of the Austrian Emperor—The Prosecution of Gen. Boulanger.

LONDON, April 16.—In the House of Commons, Mr. Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, introduced the budget. The revenue for the year ended 31st March of the last budget by £1,645,000. The expenditure was £1,645,000 and the estimated surplus £2,388,000, the largest since

1873. The income tax realized £1,201,000

over the estimate, the postal service £300,

000, and the stamp tax £240,000. Other increases were in the custom house duty

and the revenue from the telegraph service.

It is calculated that the revenue for the current year will be £2,450,000 and the expenditure £2,388,000, making a deficit of £1,017,000, caused by increased army and navy expenses. This deficit will be met by taking £1,000,000 out of the year and putting an additional tax of 1 per cent

upon the death duties on estates of the value of £10,000 and upward and adding duty of 1-14th of a penny upon every gallon of beer.

Mr. Goschen promised that the government would deal apart from the budget

with the question of light gold currency

due to wear, and would take care that the proposals would not tend to decrease the gold service.

Pushing the Boulanger Prosecution.

PARIS, April 16.—The Evening says:

"A number of documents proving that

Gen. Boulanger had tampered with the army have been submitted to the commissioner of the Senate, which is the result of the investigation of the Boulanger party. The arrest of a number of military men is imminent. The warrants that were issued for the arrest of Gen. Boulanger, Mr. de Rochefort, and Count Dillon have been served at their respective residences, this being a formality which is required to prove that the defendants are guilty of contumacy."

Is the Empress of Austria Very Ill?

PESTH, April 16.—Emperor Francis

Joseph and Empress Elizabeth, accompanied by Archduchess Valerie, started for Leicht at 9 o'clock last night. It is officially denied that the Empress is suffering from as bad as is reported. Her nervousness is claimed, is abating, and it is expected that the massage treatment which she is undergoing will effect a cure. This denial is doubted. Nobody save her lady chamberlains was allowed to see the Empress at the way station last night. The Emperor requested the ministers and all officials to remain absent.

Parnell's Irish Suit to Be Cancelled.

LONDON, April 16.—Mr. Parnell's action in the Irish courts against the Times

will be cancelled.

Patrick Malloy, who was summoned

as a witness for the Times before the Parnell commission but who upon examination gave evidence at variance with the statements he had previously made to the Times' counsel and who was placed on trial on a charge that he had perjured himself during his examination was convicted to-day. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment at hard labor.

John A. Bright to Succeed His Father.

LONDON, April 16.—John Albert Bright

(Liberal Unionist) was elected to-day to succeed his father, the late John Bright, as representative of the Central district of Birmingham in Parliament. Mr. Bright received 5,610 votes, against 2,500 votes

for Mr. William C. Beals (Gladstonian).

De Freycinet Disapproves.

LONDON, April 16.—Although the French government has not yet decided to deny there are any differences in the Cabinet

over the prosecution of Boulanger it is reported that De Freycinet, Minister of War,

does not approve it.

WISCONSIN SOLONS.

Important Measures Acted Upon by the Legislature at Madison.

MADISON, Wis., April 16.—The Senate

Monday concurred in Assembly bills providing that all wages or compensation for labor, unless there shall be a written contract to the contrary, shall be paid weekly or bi-weekly in cash, but this act shall not

—Funeral services over the remains of Edward Murray were held at St. Patrick's church this morning. A very large number of relatives and friends attended the services. Flowers were profusely strewn about the casket, many beautiful designs having been sent in by friends of the boy they had known and loved while he lived. Rev. Father McGinnity officiated, and spoke words of sympathy to the bereaved ones. After the impressive services at the church, the remains were taken to Mount Olivet cemetery and laid at rest. They intend to purchase a number of the different size tarpaulins, fire extinguishers, and other supplies such as are usually carried in cities for the preservation of property at fires, and will not stop until they have the whole outfit complete. Notwithstanding the adverse criticism of some individuals concerning this innovation in the fire department, those best qualified to judge of its merits predict this acquisition to the fire apparatus of the city, will have as great an influence in reducing the insurance rates in Janesville as the establishment of the water works.

—This forenoon a farmer drove into the city with a team and seeing the corn change fountain basin full of sparkling water, thought it a good place to water his horses, so he drove around to the south side where the foot path leads up to the basin and turned in, driving right by the drinking trough. Striking the concrete walk his horses rode right through to the gravel foundation, and made a temporary wreck of the walk. Ald. Baker discovered the intruder and hastened to the scene in time to back the team away, and after explaining to the driver the consequences of such a trespass, the countryman hastened out of town. There was considerable fun at the time as a large crowd of people congregated around the unfortunate driver and all wondered what had become of the park commissioners, or for the whereabouts of the city marshal, as the penalty of tearing up the walk should be instantly assessed and collected before the frightened fellow had time to get out of the city.

DID THEY ROB HIM.

TOM, NASH AND BILLY O'BROURKE ACCUSED OF HOLDING UP A WATER-TOWN YOUTH.

A young man from Watertown claims to the municipal court that three fellows held him up last night, took four or five dollars out of his clothes, and set him adrift in the world penniless. Two of the boys, Billy O'Bourke and Tom Nash, were arrested this morning and charged with the crime, but they claim they are not the guilty parties. The Watertown man says that they got his money and went off on a great big drunk and spent all the money. The matter was adjourned until next Friday.
